VANDERLIP IS IN FOR WARM GREETING BY THE BANKERS

TAKING INITIATIVE

Hail New Yorker As One Sent By Heaven In Nick Of Time

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—China Press Exclusive Service)

London, Nov. 16.—According to reports from various Continental capitals and centers of finance, Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip will receive a reception about twice as warm as that according the American Expeditionary Force when it started for the front line trenches to rally the shattered allies with new blood and enthusiasm. He is looked upon already as the financial saviour of Europe and unless his plan contains impossible conditions, the Bank of the United States of Europe will need a whole city to contain its central offices.

Vanderlip's plan will find the financiers of Europe ready to put every resource that is left to them at his disposal. They are taking the initiative for they are agreed that liquid money is the only salvation of the various states that are now contending for trade. His idea of trade certificates based on values of merchandise is perfectly acceptable, especially since he proposes to let the currency of the various countries strictly alone as a circulating medium in the confines of the several states, his certificates to be the warrants for balances in import and export contracts only.

The fact that he represents the Standard Oil banking interests which are now seeking oil concessions in Czecho-Slovakia does not worry the European banker a whit. Satan himself would be welcome, if he brought ready cash and did not exact a pound of flesh in return.

Shanghai Bankers Seek To Stop Run On Peking Banks And Support Local Branches

Institutions Here Have Sufficient Reserves To Meet Any Call For Specie And Protect Entire Issue Of Notes

Expressing entire confidence in the stability and ability to handle any emergency here of the Shanghai branches of the Bank of China and Bank of Communications, the Shanghai Bankers Association, at a special meeting last evening engaged to stand firmly behind the two branches should such assistance be necessary.

The members further sought to counteract the effect of the many groundless rumors which have gone into circulation by despatching reassuring telegrams to bankers associations and Chambers of Commerce throughout the country.

The meeting was called last night at 6 o'clock at the Shanghai Bankers Association headquarters and representatives of all member banks were present.

The members unanimously agreed to assist the Shanghai branches of the two banks should occasion demand. The Shanghai bankers, however, in a statement issued, expressed the opinion that the local branches have sufficient reserve to meet any possible call for specie. Whatever might happen in the North, the local note-holders of the two banks would be fully protected.

The following telegram was drafted by the Shanghai Bankers Association and sent to the bankers associations and Chambers of Commerce throughout China:

"Sensational rumors deliberately circulated in Peking and Tientsin are possibly of political nature Shanghai being quiet. No runs on the two Government banks here today. Kindly inform all concerned."

It is reported that arrangement has been made with the Director General of Customs whereby customs revenue of some ten million dollars, scheduled to be due at the end of next month, will be advanced to the Peking banks in view of the present agitation.

After a conference between the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications, the government has been requested to issue as early as possible a mandate directing the fund to be used exclusively for cashing bank notes under the joint supervision of the Bankers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that this residue will be ample to meet the floating notes of both banks at Tientsin and Peking, amounting to several million dollars. Another report states that the run in Hankow has stopped.

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 17.—Arrangements have been consummated for the turning over of four and a half million dollars from the Salt Gabelle funds now deposited in foreign banks in Shanghai, with the idea of meeting the runs on the Chinese banks which have been going on the past two days.

A great feeling of relief is evident in financial and diplomatic circles due to the announcement that this relief is to be afforded.

Some confidence has been inspired by the possibility that the proposal of the Chinese bankers that the salt surplus be allocated to save the Bank of Communications will be accepted. Foreign bankers, however, have not yet received instructions to turn over these funds.

DEFENDANT IN BONE BOILING CASE APPEALS

Man Convicted Of Murdering Father At Dramatic Trial Asking Re-Hearing

Chang Hing-seng, the Chinese who was convicted of hiring a Chinese doctor poison his father so that he would obtain his father's estate three months ago, yesterday made an appeal for re-hearing to the Highest Court of Justice in Peking.

Chang was found guilty of having paid a doctor $600 to poison his father at San Lingdong, Pootung, after a tea shop owner had explained how he would receive a great deal of money through his father's death.

He was found guilty by the Provincial High Court of Justice at Soochow. Now he has appealed to Peking, and has also asked his relatives to send a petition to the yamen of the Civil Governor of Kiangsu at Nanking.

The trial of Chang Hing-song was a dramatic affair that attracted the widespread interest both of Chinese and foreigners. The hearing was marked by a clash of opinion of native Chinese physicians with Chinese doctors who had received their training in America over the manner in which evidence of poisoning should be ascertained. The western trained doctors insisted that laboratory analysis of parts of the remains of the victim was the only proper procedure while the native Chinese doctors held to an ancient custom, declaring that only in boiling the victim's bones according to an ages-old formula could the truth be learned.

In this controversy the views of the Chinese physicians were upheld by the Chinese court and the boiling process was carried out publicly to the edification of an immense audience.

When the bones were removed from the caldron in the presence of the court it was held that marks on them clearly proved that poison had been administered and it was said also that at that time Chang Hing-song confessed his guilt.

It is understood that in the appeal he is taking to a higher court he is asking that this alleged confession be set aside.

Tusk Ivory Is Good Gift But Not Solid Dome Kind

By Elsie McCormick

There is perhaps no substance in the world with such varying values as ivory. Solid ivory in the shop may be worth more to the proprietor than a Number One wife, but solid ivory in the cranium is as useful to the possessor as a wart is to a pickle. The former type comes chiefly from Siam, Burma, and Indo-China, and lends itself to the making of all sorts of delicate objects; the latter comes from almost anywhere and is never in the least ornamental, not even being adaptable to carving. This is the type which tells thirty-five year-old ladies that they don't look a day over forty-five, buys oilstock because of the nice red seal in the corner, and makes funny cracks about the pictures while looking over a family album in the house of a friend. Both types of ivory are frequently found in drawingrooms, though it is only the latter variety that is usually asked to leave.

Despite the fact that everybody employing a houseboy, cook, or amah will disagree, China is not an ivory-producing country. We hasten to explain again, however, that we are referring to ornamental ivory. The supply used by the expert carvers of Canton and other cities comes either from Africa or from Burma and Indo-China. In Siam, Bolshevik elephants with red tusks grow a colored variety that is extremely popular with the Chinese trade, though not often demanded by foreigners.

WHY IS IT A UNICORN?

To the query, "When is ivory not ivory?" we will venture the answer, "When it didn't grow on an elephant, a hippopotamus, a sea-unicorn, or a walrus." We don't know what a sea-unicorn is, but we note that the authorities always add it to the list. The only unicorns we ever met in society had spikes on their noses and did circus tricks on family crests. Judging merely from etymology, we would imagine that a unicorn was a person with only one corn, but then etymology isn't always a safe guide. We never heard of a duocorn, although we are sure there must be lots of them.

But anyway the teeth and tusks of these four animals count as ivory, other teeth ranking in the market as mere bone with social pretentions. The tusks of the African elephant are more desirable than those of the Asiatic varieties, the color being whiter and the grain finer. Hippopotamus teeth are much in demand for billiard balls, not many people realising that when they click the same round pellets they are causing a hippopotamus' teeth to chatter. They are also said to be popular with dentists, which makes one wonder why more people with false teeth don't show a preference for a vegetable diet and for standing knee-deep in rivers.

MAMMOTH ALSO USED

One of the most remarkable sources of ivory is the great fossil mammoth uncovered in the icy marshes of Siberia. Tusks that gored other beasts in the remote ages before man had developed either a forehead, a mind, or a fondness for lobster Newburgh are being inlaid today on the surface of Ningpo tables. The shaggy elephants of massive girth that terrorised every other living creature and controlled all senatorial elections from Archangel to Behring Sea never looked forward to contributing to household ornamentation. To be reconstructed from a tusk, and placed in a museum for natural history classes to giggle over and a pipe-smoking overall-clad individual to dust off is a sore enough trial to a mammoth's dignity, but to be inlaid on a table must be infinitely worse.

Canton is the center of China's ivory market. On the usual Chinese principle that shops dealing in the same commodity should stay close together to watch each other instead of getting far away from competition as foreign stores do, all the ivory shops of Canton are on one street near the French cathedral. Here they reverse another Western principle—all the actual work is done in the sight of passersby, but the articles on sale are usually concealed in boxes placed in an inner room.

By merely going by the shops, it is possible to glimpse all the processes from the rough carving of a green tusk to the final polishing-off of an art object with dabs of face-powder.

Ivory workers serve a five years' apprenticeship without

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO? WHOLE WORLD IS ASKING JAPANESE

British Ready Save In Minor Particulars To Meet Hughes' Program And Thus Put The Burden Of Deciding On The Nipponese—What Effect Will People Have Is Now The Question

CONGRESS IS ALL BEHIND HUGHES

Fortifications Not Included Because America Would Give All And Gain Nothing If They Were Also In Scrapheap With Battleships

BY NATHANIEL PEFFER

Washington, Nov. 16.—Disarmament is up to Japan is the view held here tonight. The concensus of opinion of the British correspondents is that Britain will accept Secretary Hughes proposal with very slight modifications, leaving the burden of the decision to the Japanese.

Indications are cropping up that the Japanese are dissatisfied with Hughes failure to mention the matter of fortifications in the Pacific and also may object on the ground that the proportion of the world's dreadnoughts allotted to Japan is too small.

Interviews with United States congressmen reveal their almost unanimous support of the Hughes proposal. Navy men are silent, but it is felt that the administration has covered the views of the navy and opposition from that source is not expected.

It is hoped that the Japanese opposition may be reduced else it may block the greatest move for disarming in the history of the world. Nevertheless it is doubtful whether America will accede to the dismantling of fortifications since small fleets after the disarmament would leave forts of little use even for defensive purposes, let alone offensive.

Dismantling of forts also would be entirely to America's disadvantage since Japan has practically none.

Despite all this, the outlook still is regarded as favorable since it is not believed that Japan will oppose the sentiment of its people which is necessarily aroused if the proposals of Secretary Hughes have been given the full publicity that is here believed to have been accorded them, and after the full commitments of Kato and the Japanese pressmen here.

WHAT JAPAN WANTS

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 17.—A Washington special telegram to the Nichi Nichi dated November 16 states that Japan's general policy toward the Pacific and Far Eastern problems to be discussed at the Washington Conference has been decided upon by the Japanese delegates as follows:

(1) Peaceful development in the Pacific of Great Britain, Japan, and the United States.

(2) Territorial integrity for China.

(3) Withdrawal of Japanese troops from Shantung.

(4) Japan's maintenance of special interests from the viewpoint of her national defense with regard to the places adjacent to her territory and to the railways therein, though she has no territorial ambition towards Manchuria.

(5) Open door and equal opportunities of Manchuria and Siberia.

(6) Recognition of the necessity of Japan's economic expansion in Siberia, though she wants neither right of protection for nor annexation of Siberia.

(7) Withdrawal of Japanese troops from Siberia to be carried out upon the restoration of peace and order there.

(8) Recognition by China of the Consortium comprising the Four Powers.

(9) Maintenance of the status quo regarding the lease of the zone along the South Manchuria Railway.

(10) Settlement of the Yap question on conditions satisfactory to Japan and other Powers concerned.

(11) Subject to the conclusion of a naval agreement between Japan, the United States, and press for the continuance of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

LAUNCHING OF KAGA

Tokio, Nov. 16.—The launching of the battleship Kaga, which is one of the warcraft relegated to the scrap heap according to the American program as outlined at the Disarmament Conference is scheduled to take place tomorrow. Officials of the Japanese Navy said there was no reason to expect that any postponement would be ordered.

The launching of the sister ship of the Kaga, the Tosa is scheduled for December 16 from the Mitsubishi dockyard at Nagasaki. According to the opinion of naval officers and newspaper "experts" it is urged that Japan be permitted to retain both the Kaga and the Tosa in addition to the warship Mutsu.

The two new warships, Kaga and Tosa, are both of 40,000 tons carrying ten 16 inch guns. It is learned that many of the leading Japanese naval officials first learned of the American proposal while attending the launching of Japan's first airship carrier, the Hosho at the Asano dockyard on Sunday. The Hosho is the first of three pro-

ULSTER SCORES CABINET

(Special To The China Press)

Belfast, Nov. 16.—U. M. Andrews, the Ulster minister of labor, returned from London today.

"A disgraceful betrayal of Ulster has been attempted by the British cabinet", said Mr. Andrews. "The suggestion was made that we agree to a parliament for all Ireland with dominion powers.

"We informed his Majesty that we were not prepared to admit the ascendancy of any parliament other than Imperial Parliament over ours."

Need Of Vaccination Is Brought Home By Small Pox Outbreak

The vital importance of vaccination for foreigners in Shanghai is given a forciful emphasis by the fact that there are at present nearly forty cases of small pox among the foreign population of the Settlements.

In nearly every instance, local physicians state, the victim is one who has not been vaccinated, or who has not been vaccinated for several years. One case of a "conscientious objector" is at present being handled at the Isolation Hospital.

The importance of vaccination has been repeatedly brought before the public by Dr. C. Noel Davis, Acting Health Officer, in his official reports, which point out that the disease is naturally more prevalant at this season and always endemic among the Chinese.

It is further pointed out that vaccination in the East is advisable every year, instead of every two or three years, as in western countries.

JAPAN TO END FORTS

Tokio, Nov. 17.—According to the press here, with regard to the Far Eastern problems, the Japanese delegates to the Washington Conference will, for the sake of maintaining peace and order in the Far East, introduce a proposal for the restriction of defensive equipments in the Pacific on the part of Great Britain and the United States and at the same time will make an announcement to the effect that Japan is prepared to abandon the forts as well as the scheme for the additional construction of forts at Bako and Kiirun of Formosa and at Ogasawara Island in the Pacific.

MY KEEP MUTSU

Tokio, Nov. 17.—A Washington special telegram to the Jiji Shimpo dated November 16 states that the excluding of the Japanese battleship, Mutsu, from the list of superannuated men-of-war has been unofficially recognised.

Whether or not the United States will give her consent to the abandonment of the Aki is not yet ascertained but it is probable that the United States will agree to the proposed abandonment.

GIVES BRITISH VIEW

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Nov. 17.—A high British authority at the Conference has emphasised the four outstanding features of the British point of view respecting China's proposals. He says that Great Britain reiterates the principle of the open door and considers that spheres of influence are antiquated and unsuited to modern conditions. She does not regard the Panama Canal as a Pacific question and it will not be urged on the Conference's consideration. The Anglo-Japanese Alliance is not regarded as being directly involved in China's proposals, although the question may be withdrawn later.

The consideration of Far Eastern questions will immediately proceed on the basis of yesterday's Chinese propositions, which will be examined by experts whose reports will be presented to the Conference as soon as possible.

The British would welcome an agreement between the great powers respecting China, even one limited to America, Japan and Britain, as it is felt that co-operative action is desirable to regulate Far Eastern conditions.

He added that Great Britain will not advance any proposition regarding the adjustment of foreign war-indebtedness to the United States.

New York, Nov. 17.—All the Congress leaders are considering plans to avoid the introduction of measures likely to hamper the Conference.

MAY SAVE MUTSU

Washington, Nov. 17.—It is believed that the suggestion that the Mutsu should not be scrapped will probably be adopted, as it will not materially change the American plan. The Japanese naval advisers are optimistic over the prospects, and even hope that a full agreement will very shortly be reached by all the powers.

The Japanese have declared their willingness to discuss all Chinese questions most frankly and they are very anxious to meet the views of the other powers. The degree of tension which was recently apparent over Far Eastern questions has been relieved by the careful way in which the committee of nine nations are approaching difficulties.

YOU, TOO, SAYS JAPAN

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 17.—Statements emanating from authoritative Japanese quarters in Washington profess to represent Japan's readiness to withdraw from Shantung and Kiaochow provided that Great Britain withdraws from Weihaiwei, and also that Japan does not desire to annex or exercise a protectorate over Manchuria but the recognition of the principle that she is specially interested there, based on contiguousness and railway and other investments.

It is also alleged that Japan desires the recognition of the principle of peaceful penetration for trade in Siberia and is ready completely to withdraw the Japanese forces upon the organisation of a stable Government qualified to protect Japanese in the Russian Far Eastern Maritime Province of Siberia.

The Japasese views on the question of China are less definite, and seem to aim at the Chinese acceptance of a Four-Power Consortium with the object of conducting Chinese foreign loans and establishing public services with the assistance of Chinese capital under control exercises for the purpose of obviating waste and corrupt misapplication of funds.

FINISH BY NEW YEAR

London, Nov. 17.—The impression is growing in Washington that the main work of the Conference may be completed by December 31.

U-BOAT FOR DEFENSE

London, Nov. 17.—An explanation of the paradox disclosed by the American disarmament proposals to increase submarines while Great Britain strongly favors numerical reduction and limitation in size is found in the fact that American naval opinion regards these craft not as a weapon of offense but of defense, eminently suitable for the protection of a long coastline.

On the other hand, the British think that if the program is not carefully guarded there will be serious developments in submarine warfare which would nullify the benefit of suppressing capital ships

ARMIES ALREADY AT LIMIT

New York, Nov. 17.—The Associated Press correspondent at Washington reports that America will not offer a definite program regarding the limitation of land forces, her army having reached the irreducibility consistent with national safety. Great Britain is in a similar position. It is expected that after M. Briand has spoken, the question of armies will be referred to the Armaments Committee. It is authoritatively added that America will not respond to any French suggestion for definite British and American assurances for protection against German aggression, and Britain has given an assurance of her support of America in this connection.

Northcliffe Gets China's Idea From President Hsu

Peking, Nov. 17.—In view of the crisis Lord Northcliffe has succeeded in interviewing and obtaining personal statements from President Hsu Shih-chang and the Premier, General Chin Yun-peng, at the Palace for the Times, which he afterwards handed to Reuter's Agency for circulation throughout the world. The President said:

"The opening of the Washington Conference was marked by many suggestions advocating foreign control of China but such procedure would only cause further difficulties and troubles. The Chinese people should be allwed to solve their own internal problems. "China's present troubles should be regarded by foreigners, not as peculiar to China, But as a natural step inthe evolution of government after the overthrow of the monarchical form which had endured for centuries. Similar difficulties were experienced by France after the Revolution and England and America also had long periods of serious unsettlement before a staple administration was consummated.

CHINA WANTS SMPATHY

"China would like foreign nations to regard he development now proceding with understanding and symphy. The interests of foreign Powers in China are chiefly commercial and helpful criticism of China and determination on the part of the Powers to give fair play to China would materially aid commercial expansion and and creat business opportunities of tremendous importance.

"China present financial difficulties were enlarged by the conditions which have obtained since the termination of the war. During the war foreign buyers oerrated largely in the Chinese market and were large purchasers of Chinese products. "Since the war this has materially diminished and China has not yet been able to make up the deficiency. She has not made any foreign loans during the last three years of any considerable amount. Also there has been no particular investment of foreign capital and this, coupled with decrease of trade in such staples as silk, tea, etc., was responsible for little capital coming to the country.

WILL ADJUST TROUBLES

"China is in financial difficulties but they are not insurmountable and steps are now being taken by the Government which will enable the country to return to its normal state in a reasonable time in spite of the troubles between the North and the South. These are expected to be adjusted in due course because the Central Government is prepared to accept any reasonable terms to establish peace.

"Some foreign papers have pointed out that the differences between the North and South were differences between persons desiring to serve their own ends and this was the correct view. The people of China are sound: only five provinces are aligned against the North and among them there are sharp differences.

"The Central Government is ready for peace and has striven for it and will take any opportunity to secure it."

After his audience with the President, Lord Northcliffe interviewed the Premier, General Chin Yun-peng, who said:

HAS GOOD SECURITY

"China wants money and can offer ample security. We have the Customs surplus, the wine and tobacco revenue, the railway surplus, and the stamp tax. We are shortly issuing a balance sheet showing the exact position.

"We are willing to discuss control of expenditure, if it does not interfere with China's sovereign rights. We expect from the Washington Conference to get tariff autonomy. At present we cannot increase the tariff rate without consulting thirteen Treaty Powers. We cannot freely change our tariff as every other nation of the world does. We nominally collect a tariff of five percent but actually get 3.7 percent.

"Give us the right to fix our tariff like any other nation and we shall be able to help ourselves. The more we are left alone, the better for all concerned. We need money to disband troops and their pay is many months in arrears. China is absolutely solvent in spite of the present confusion of finance."

PROPOSALS OF CHINA

Washington, Nov. 16.—It is authoritatively stated that the Chinese proposals on the subject of the Far East have the moral support of the American Delegation. Mr. Sze insisted on the preservation of Chinese territorial integrity, and political and administrative independence. China is return agreeing not to alienate or lease any portion of her territory to any foreign power. All special rights and privileges, whether immunities on commitments, now held in China by foreign powers would be carefully re-examined and all existing limitations upon China's political, buridical and administrative action would be removed. Provision would be made for future international discussions on the Far Eastern situation.

FRANCE AGREES WITH CHINA

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Nov. 17.—The French delegation agrees that the Chinese proposals form a suitable basis for the discussion of the whole of the Far Eastern Affairs but state that they seem to lack definiteness except as regards principles. They presume that the Chinese delegation will not delay suggestions for the settlement of the disputed issues.

Signor Schanzer declared that the Italians would support the solution which would best ensure the free development of China and guarantee the equality of the various nations interested in her progress.

TO INCREASE U-BOATS

Paris, Nov. 17.—It is noteworthy in connection with present events at Washington that the French Senate Naval Committee yesterday invited the Minister of Marine to increase the number of submarines in the provisional program.

FRANCE TO CUT ARMY

London, Nov. 17.—It is understood in Washington that M. Briand at the plenary session tomorrow will announce that France will spontaneously limit land armaments.

PLANS FOR PACIFIC

London, Nov. 17.—Forecasts of the American proposals with regard to the Far East are published from Washington, which, although they are not claimed as authoritative, are understood by competent personages to reflect American desires.

These embrace abolition or modification of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, evacuation by Japan of Shantung and Siberia, renunciation of claims to special interests in China under the Lansing-Ishii Agreement, all-round relinquishment of spheres of interest in China, undertakings that the possessions of private property in China, especially railroads, does not confer any political or military rights whatsoever.

Also plans are made for agreements that leaseholds of Chinese ports, like Weihaiwei and Kiaochow, do not infringe Chinese territorial sovereignty, and an understanding whereby the United States will not fortify the Philippines, Guam, Midway Island or Samoa, if Japan does not fortify her insular outposts in the Western Pacific.

HURD EQUATES PLAN

London, Nov. 17.—The naval expert, Mr. Archibald Hurd, writing in the Daily Telegraph, elucidates the American naval scheme. He says there is no idea of reductions in the existent effectives of navies. It is simply proposed to scrap a number of obsolescent capital ships, the majority of which anyhow would be shortly broken up.

The navies of the Big Three will be neither weakened nor strengthened. The expense of fleet maintenance will not be appreciably reduced and there is no question of closing any dockyards. The kernel of the proposals is that expansion will be checked. No navy will have post-Jutland ships.

Mr. Hurd estimates that the Big Three will save £300,000,000 apart from the economy which will react on all secondary navies.

Shanghai Bankers Seek To Stop Run On Peking Banks

as an extraordinary council is shortly to be held at Peking with the three Inspector-Generals, Chang Tso-lin, Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu as well as the Tuchuns of all local provinces.

To the foregoing, General Hsiao Yao-nan has despatched a reply telegram stating to the effect that as it is impossible for him to proceed to Peking in person, he will send Chang Lien-fen, Chief of the General Staff, as his representative.

WU REFUSES TO GO

(Dah Tung News Agency)

Peking, Nov. 17.—Wu Pei-fu has telegraphed to the Peking Government, thanking them for the invitation but declining to proceed to Peking.

ASKS NATION'S AID

(Dah Tung News Agency)

Peking, Nov. 17.—The Peking Bankers Association, realizing that the present financial crisis is a national one has telegraphed to the Bankers throughout the country to support the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications.

BANKS ARE FORTIFIED

Peking, Nov. 17.—Except for the Bank of Communications, and the Bank of China the situation as to the other Chinese banks is considerably easier this morning after the runs of yesterday.

Notes of these two institutions are refused by other banks and by post offices but the telegraph offices are still accepting the notes.

The Chinese Bankers Association is exerting every effort to save the situation and confidence that they will succeed is growing. This is evidenced particularly by exchange shops which are accepting notes this morning, though at a discount.

Bank Street presents an unusual scene today with heavy cordons of troops and large detachments of police outside the Chien Men and at the head and along the street near the banking houses.

The Bank of Communications is protected by a barricade of bamboo poles erected over night while extra details of police are on duty.

Bank officials profess that they are paying fifty percent on all notes presented and they insist that they are meeting the demands of all depositors desiring to withdraw deposits.

It is known, however, that few desiring to either present notes for payment or withdraw deposits are allowed to pass through the gauntlet of police and soldiers on guard.

The amount of banknotes issued by the Tientsin and Kalgan offices of the Bank of China and of Communications is not known here.

Peking, Nov. 17.—Runs on the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications stopped in Tientsin and Peking today when the institutions were able to meet the heavy demands for cash made by anxious holders of notes.

Advices from Hankow state that while demands made on the branches of the banks there were heavy yesterday and the day before, conditions are much better today.

Rumors originating with a Government offical who recently retired from office and general reports that the institutions were heavily involved in the Ministry of Finance, at present in a deplorable state, started the runs in Peking and Tientsin.

SILVER PAID FREELY

It is learned here that the uneasiness in Hankow was caused when the Commissioner of Customs was said to have withdrawn Taels 200,000 from the Bank of China. Over $500,000 in silver was paid out by this bank and the Bank of Communications before the runs stopped.

No measure as been adopted by the Government for the improvement of the situation with the Board of Finance.

The Ministers of War, Marine and Justice have again resigned as their offices are unable to pay salaries.

The Ministry of Communications is believed to be financially sound, making it for the present the "unique" department of the so-called Government of China.

DEPOSITORS DRIBBLE BY

(Special To The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 16.—By closing time today, all of the Chinese banks in Peking were besieged by long lines of depositors and noteholders whom the heavy guards of police and soldiery allowed to dribble in one at a time.

The Bank of China is cashing one-half of each bundle of notes presented.

All banks are under heavy guard tonight. An ugly rumor is in circulation that the Chinese banks have been threatened with looting in revenge for their refusal to rescue the government from its present financial difficulties.

According to officials of the Bank of China here a wire has been received from the Bank of China in Peking stating that conditions in Peking are better and that the sensational run on the bank is abating. Similar advices were received here by the Bank of Communications from the Bank of Communications in Peking.

Detective Branch Loses Able Member

Chiefs of the Criminal Intelligence department of the Municipal police force are mourning the loss of one of their ablest workers, Chinese Detective Sergeant No. 5, Dzung Yoong-kong, who died Wednesday afternoon after an illness of some duration.

Dzung had been a member of the Shanghai Municipal Police force since 1901 and had been with the detective branch since July 25, 1907.

He had a remarkably fine record of service and gained special mention on two occasions when he captured escaping prisoners and again when he showed conspicuous bravery at a fire. He figured in the capture of several armed robbers. He was 42 years old.

pay, and even in that time they never learn more than one branch of the business. A sawer never becomes a carver, for instance, the sawers for some obscure reason being better paid. There is a great variety in tools used, ivory-carvers, like burglars, preferring to invent their own implements.

Ivory ought to stand very close to Number One on homeside Christmas lists. It is possible to secure a beautifully carved string of beads for eighteen dollars and plainer chains may be bought for very much less. Ivory pendants swung on ribbons have also been known to serve as effective healing applications on wounds caused by too few letters. A person with a somewhat longer bank-roll might be interested in securing one of the carved ivory balls with nine or more smaller balls inside. These ornamnets have even been boiled in oil by skeptical foreigners who believed that the halves were pasted together and who were determined to melt the glue, but the only result was discolored ivory and wasted time.

By the means of small apertures for the introduction of instruments, the balls are actually cut out, one inside the other, the process requiring a man's full working time for about three months. We don't know just what to suggest doing with the object after buying it, though the baby might learn to cut his teeth on it, after a certain amount of practice. We fear that if anybody tried to make them at home during the war, he would be arrested for participating in a non-essential industry.

As only wild elephants can grow really luxuriant tusks and as the hippopotamus seems to grow more demure and retiring with the passing years, carved bone is making a heavy debut on the Canton street near the French Cathedral. About the only hope for the ivory industry seems to be the mobilisation of some of the pink elephants seen by prominent Shanghai citizens after an evening's entertainment, or the invention of some method for utilising the unornamental variety which is worn above the ears by such a considerable proportion of the populace.

MAGISTRATE ASKS HOUSE OWNERS TO KEEP RENTS DOWN

The Chinese City Magistrate has posted a public notice asking landlords and house owners, in view of the rising cost of living, not to increase rentals to unreasonable figures.

The General Tenants' Union has received a letter from the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, stating that he is fully aware of the distressful position of the tenants and he has already written to the Senior Consul requesting the latter to devise ways and means to limit the increasing of house rents.

The General Chamber of Commerce has also written to the Union suggesting that the five Chinese advisers of the Municipal Council put forward at the next Council meeting a proposal for the adoption of some measures to restrict house rents.

Trade Mark Action Up In Mixed Court

An interesting trade mark test case came up in the Mixed Court yesterday when representatives of the Pond's Extract Company, an American firm, contested a motion for dismissal of an action against Lai Tai-tsung, Ling Koen-kee and Van Wan-loo, distributors of a face cream alleged to be an imitation of a product of the complainant firm.

The motion was dismissed by the court, consisting of American Assessor Tenney, Portuguese Assessor Tavares and Magistrate Li.

The defendants are represented by Mr. S. H. McKean and Mr. M. L. Heen who sought to show that the defendants are merely selling agents for the product—called "Fragrant Snow"—and that the proper procedure would be to sue the manufacturers of the cream, the Globe Perfumery Company, in the Portuguese Court, the firm being registered at the Portuguese Consulate.

Mr. R. T. Bryan, Jr., for the plaintiffs, declared that the selling of the locally made cream was a clear infringement of the American concern's rights and pointed out almost identical similarities in the container, aluminium lid and general aspect of the goods. Unless the court overruled the motion, he contended, it would be allowing violation of the treaty between the United States and China which provides for the protection of properly trade marked goods.

The defendants were ordered to furnish security and the case will be set for trial, when the Pond company will endeavor to have all the alleged imitation jars destroyed and the defendants restrained from selling the preparation and will seek damages.

Cotton Mill Given Decision In Dispute

The Ming Sun Cotton Mill was given a final decision as defendant yesterday in the Mixed Court in a suit arising from a disputed path leading to B. C. Lot 10122, owned by Ving Sing-kee.

According to the testimony presented in the court the owners of the cotton mill had prepared foundations and other obstructions preventing access to the Ving Sing-kee property. It was also alleged that a fence had been erected on the path which was said to have been a public highway.

The case has been on the docket of the court since November 4, when the decision was reserved until yesterday.

Information gleaned in a police inquiry of a disturbance that occurred at a new building being erected by the Shanghai Cotton Spinning Company just outside of the Settlement limits brought to light yesterday an anti-Japanese demonstration in which the contractor in charge of the work on the new building, M. Matsumoto, was menaced by a half hundred coolies and escaped injury only due to the timely arrival of the Chinese police.

The contractor had reproved a worker on the structure for mixing mud with mortar and when the offense was repeated a fight occurred after which it is reported, the contractor ordered the man bound and had him beaten. It was when the coolie's fellow workers learned of the incident that they made a demonstration and were about to rush the contractor's office where he had taken refuge when the police arrived.

Messrs. COLLINS & ROSS,
154 Bermondsey St., London.

DEAR SIRS,

Until my last voyage to New York I dreaded sea travelling. Hitherto I had been so susceptible to sea-sickness that I could not leave my bed during the whole of the voyage. Even when travelling by train I have been obliged to lie down.

Before leaving for New York, I was persuaded to take "KIRBY'S SEA-SICK CURE" and was surprised to find that I not only avoided sea-sickness, but was entirely free from nausea of any kind. We had very rough seas during the greater part of the voyage, but I took all my meals in the saloon, and never felt better.

I shall never travel without the cure in future. You should make the remedy widely known, for it will be a boon to thousands.

Yours gratefully,
(Signed) MARY GORDON-WEST.

Inter-School Football Leagues Set For Season

Arrangements have now been completed for the three Inter-School Leagues, the first set of matches in which has already been played. There are three Leagues: (1) Seniors, open to boys under eighteen years of age; (2) Juniors, open to boys under fifteen, and (3) Midgets, for boys under twelve.

The Carlill Cup is the trophy for which the Seniors compete, the present holders being the Public School. Silver cups are also competed for annually by the Juniors and Midgets, the St. Francis Xavier's College at present holding the Junior Cup and the Public School the Midget.

The St. Francis Xavier's College, the Thomas Hanbury School and the Public School have each re-entered this year in all three Leagues. In addition, the Shanghai American School re-appears as a competitor, a Senior XI having been entered. Also, the French Municipal School has entered a Midget XI for the first time in the history of the League.

Great care is taken by responsible masters of the Schools concerned to see that only those boys below the age limit represent their School in the various Leagues. Lists of entrants with ages should be inter-changed beforehand. It is regrettable that not every foreign School in the Settlement has been able to enter in one or more of the Leagues. It is to be hoped however that these Schools will re-consider the merits of the game and will enter in at least one of the three divisions next year. It is still not too late to enter and they may be assured of a hearty welcome by the other schools on their re-appearance in the League as well as in other forms of Inter-School athletics.

On Wednesday afternoon at the Hongkew Recreation Ground, the Public School Senior XI beat the Shanghai American School 4 goals to one. The Public School proved to be far too strong for their less experienced opponents, but the latter made a plucky fight throughout the game.

With the wind in their favor, the Public School were attacking during most of the first half but the American School goal-keeper saved brilliantly time after time, being only twice beaten during the half, by Johansson on each occasion. During the second half the Public School maintained the attack, adding two more goals through Johansson and Jesu.

Football Bursts Just As It Was Sailing Over Bar

Mooseheart (Ill), Oct. 17.—A perfect drop kick from the 25-yard line was spoiled by a defective football, which exploded just as the ball sailed over the goal bar in a game here between Mooseheart and Morris high schools. Right end Durbin of the Mooseheart team dropped back to the 25-yard line and attempted the drop kick. The kick was perfect, and the ball was passing the goal bar when it exploded and burst. The referee gave Durgin another ball, and this time the player missed the goal.

BRITISH GOLFERS WORRIED OVER LOSS OF TITLES

Question Whether The New Professionals Take Their Work Quite Seriously

London, Oct. 15.—Golf enthusiasts are becoming very much worried about the condition of British golf. The loss of the British championship at St. Andrews gave them the first serious jolt; the in-an-out performances of Duncan and Mitchell in America added to their disgruntlement, which has been greatly accentuated by Miss Cecil Leitch's disappearance from the American women's championship. But the poor display of Great Britain's leading professionals in the £750 "News of the World" tournament is driving them to despair.

The days of the great triumvirate, Vardon, Braid and Taylor, have passed and the golf enthusiasts lament that there is none left to fill their shoes. They forget that then Great Bditain had little or no outside competition, whereas, since their day, other countries have taken up the game and conditions are different.

The question is whether the new professionals take their work quite so seriously and single-mindedly as did their greater predecessors who lived for nothing but golf, when the gains to be obtained in pay or prizes were insignificant compared to those of today.

Philippine Swimmers Plan For Olympics

Manila (by mail).—A swimming committee to have charge of all training and picking of the Filipino swimming team at the Far Eastern Olympics at Osaka in 1923 has just been appointed by the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation. The committee will begin preparations for the Philippines participation in the water events immediately.

Captain Harold J. Parker, coach of the swimming team that won the Far Eastern events in Shanghai, has started developing material for the team through the organisation of the Philippine Swimming League.

Am'n Football Practice Program

American football men will not practice at the Drill Hall this evening due to the armory being reserved for other use. The Gridiron squad will take its next workout Sunday morning at 10 o'clock on the Baseball Field at the Race Course.

It is not likely now that football will be played tomorrow. It was hoped to get the American school for the date with the lighter Shanghai eleven, but the school boys are engaged at soccer.

As for the prospects with the Navy, Herby Gallop is visiting the Yacht Isabel this morning to talk football with the athletic officer, with a view to signing up games for the duration of the vessel's stay in port. It is hoped that by this evening a firm schedule of football will have been arranged.

Ensor's License As Jockey Is Revoked

Buddy Ensor, who only a season ago was regarded as one of the best jockeys in this country, has probably been seen in silks for the last time. His license was revoked at a meeting of the Stewards of the Jockey Club. The action was taken following the reports of the Stewards of the Saratoga Association, which had suspended Ensor. The action against Ensor is generally supposed to be the result of the rider's failure to observe training rules. He had not been accused at any time of dishonesty, but he had been repeatedly set down this season for failure to keep himself in condition to ride.

Delivery of the armor plate for the new cars has been taken and the work of construction commenced by the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works.

Foreign Basket Ball League To Organise Monday

At a meeting of all the team representatives of the Foreign Basketball League to be held at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. at 8:30 Monday evening, Nov. 21, a definite decision will be reached as to the various teams who will comprise the league and a schedule will be drawn up.

It is especially urgent that representatives be present from The Public School, American School, Shanghai College, Anderson-Meyer, American Trading Co. Socony, and the two teams from both the Rowing Club and the Y.M.C.A. Any other groups that contemplate entering should then make application as this will be the last opportunity.

The two Y.M.C.A. teams have been tentatively lined-up as follows: Team A. Bartlett, Christy, Davis, Lockwood, Miller, Pettit, Roberts and Van Hook; Team B. Elliott, Geldart, Gray, Lewis, Runyan, Roxburgh, Steele and Irle.

Any other members, either present or prospective, who deside to play basketball are urged to get in touch with either Bartlett or Irle.

Portuguese Here Honor Consul-General Casanova

The Consul-General for Portugal, Mr. Casanova, and Mr. J. Nolasco were guests of honor at the Shanghai Lusitano Club, last night, when the members took occasion to express their heartfelt appreciation of the efforts of these two gentlemen toward arranging at Macao the $200,000 loan necessary to bring about the establishment here of a Portuguese community club and social center.

The club rooms were most colorfully and artistically decorated for the occasion, the national colors being incorporated in a scheme which involved the lavish use of evergreens and red chrysanthemums. The general arrangements for the affair were in the able hands of Mr. C. E. D. Ozorio while Messrs. J. M. Marques and C. A. Pereira had charge of decorations and menu.

The dinner was presided over by the Club's president, Mr. J. J. de Souza, who spoke of the object of the gathering and toasted the Portuguese Republic. The vice-president of the Club, Mr. C. E. L. Ozorio, then rose to propose the health of the guest of honor and paid eloquent tribute to Mr. Casanova's work in the interests of the community. With reference to his efforts to secure the Macao loan, the speaker stated, Mr. Casanova made the trip at great personal sacrifice and at his own expense. It had seemed that his efforts were to fail, but as a result of them the Governor of Macao had since written the president of the Club to the effect that the loan is to be made.

MR. A. CASANOVA

HIS THEME IS UNITY

Mr. Casanova in responding dwelt on the theme of unity and good will among the community, the prosperity of which he toasted. Mr. Ozorio also proposed the health of Mr. Nolasco, who made a suitable response. Mr. Botelho, Vice-Consul, was also called upon for a brief speech. The dinner throughout was marked with the greatest enthusiasm and a hearty spirit of good-fellowship.

Mr. Casanova, since his arrival in Shanghai a year ago, has won the esteem of the entire Portuguese community of the Settlements and his labors in the interests of his fellow countrymen have been indefatigable.

Mr. Casanova came to Shanghai with a remarkable record of service. The son of a distinguished Portuguese painter, formerly an instructor to the royal family in monarchical days, he began his consular career in 1901 when he was appointed vice-consul at Madrid and especially attached to the Legation. Five years later he became consul in Madrid and on the occasion of the revolution of 1911 was transferred to Badojoz. He went later to Ayamonte and following this served as principal secretary to the Minister of Foreign Affairs. His next consular post was at Bombay. While there he had the distinction of being elected patron by 124 Portuguese Clubs throughout India and was elected a Brother of the Santa Casa de Misericordia, an honor which had not been conferred on anyone for over 100 years. He was later Minister to Siam and consul at Vigo and Singapore. He was secretary of the delegates at the International Conference at Algeciras in 1906 and wears several decorations conferred upon him for services in Spain. He is a member of the Portuguese Institute of Lisbon and a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of Lisbon.

Five reels of the film on the road building operations of the American Red Cross in Shantung and Shansi were shown at the President's palace on the evening of November 13 to His Excellency, Hsu Shih-chang and the immediate members of his family by Dr. W. W. Peter.

In addition, the President saw himself in the moving pictures for the first time in the film "Dedication of Peking Union Medical College." He is shown in a private interview with Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and party at the reception on September 17. He also saw the film prepared by the International Health Board on "Unhooking the Hookworm." The program lasted two hours.

The steamer Nanking of the China Mail which arrived yesterday with a full passenger list is being dispatched today for Singapore. The Nanking brought 1,045 tons of cargo and 85 bags of mail for Shanghai. Among those who arrived on the vessel are Mr. Paul S. Crawley, who is associated with the Pathe Moving Picture corporation and who has come to the Far East to obtain pictures and further the interests of the company. Other arrivals are Messrs. G. C. Dirks, Albert J. Israel, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCarthy and Miss Lucile Goronsan. ## Church Of England Men's Society Meets

The annual meeting of the members of the Church of England Men's Society was held yesterday afternoon at the Cathedral School, Mr. E. Page being in the chair.

Mr. A. T. Downie read the minutes of the last meeting, and on the proposition of Dean Symons, seconded by Mr. Chatley the report and accounts were passed.

It was decided to increase the contribution to the Church House from $40 to $50.

The following committee was elected for the new year: Mr. E. Page, chairman; Mr. A. T. Downie, honorary secretary and treasurer; Messrs. Passkides, Naylor, A. E. C. Thompson, Baily, Chatley and Neilson.

Mr. Downie complained of the want of interest by the members in the work of the C.E.M.S. Instead of going forward, the Society had been going backward. He did not feel justified in taking up the duties of the secretary. He said: "We have a church and we have a C.E.M.S. We want the whole support of the vestry which we are not getting. The C.E.M.S. has a mission something higher than we see in Shanghai. It has been going on in Shanghai since April, 1919. If there were any organisation we should have had a branch at Bubbling Well, Hongkew and in the west."

Eventually on the meeting pointing out that in all movements it was not quantity that should be sought but quality, Mr. Downie agreed to carry on the work of secretary for another year.

ONE SURVEY IS ENOUGH, CHINA ADVISES MACAO

(Special To The China Press)

Hongkong, Nov. 17.—The Governor of Macao has sent a dispatch to the Canton Government asking the latter to send a representative to be present at a survey to be made which will determine the location of the boundary line between Portuguese and Chinese territory, which caused so much trouble a month ago.

The Canton Government refused to send a representative replying "the Canton Government, through the Board of Foreign Affairs, has made a careful survey of the territory in dispute and sees no need for any further survey."

Gaston, Williams Put Forth Scheme For Reorganisation

Complete reorganisation of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore in New York, with a proposed cash capitalisation of G.$1,500,000, has been outlined by the stockholders' committee to the receivers of the company, according to despatches received yesterday from New York.

The plan includes the purchase of the twelve foreign agencies of the company with all assets excepting cash for G.$75,000, and also the issue of 300,000 shares of stock at $5.

George A. Gaston, formerly president of the parent company of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, together with several of the larger stockholders who are known as the stockholders' committee are quoted in the despatch as stating that the present holders of stock of the company will be offered the right to take up the new shares.

"With the capital realised from this sale," the committee said, "the new company will be enabled to secure a competent, experienced management."

The local office of Gaston, Williams and Wigmore has been under the management of Mr. L. C. Palmer, as representative of the receivers, since last June. Mr. Palmer said last night that no direct word had been received from New York that would give any indication of the probable success of the plan.

"Some time ago," Mr. Palmer said, "I received a circular from New York saying that such a plan might be presented, but I have heard nothing directly from the office there.

"However, if the old stockholders can be persuaded to put new life into the company at the rate of $5 a share the only question then will be personnel."

Mr. Palmer was of the opinion that it would be some time before a definite arrangement was reached in New York.

"Naturally, I am not in a position to know what progress has been made but I can say that if such a plan were carried out and the company renewed their activities with a cash capital of $1,500,000, combined with efficient and honest management there is every possibility that the company will regain the excellent standing that Gaston, Williams and Wigmore held prior to their receivership."

Mr. Palmer was unable to throw any light on the item of G.$75,000 offered for the assets of the old Company, which appears in the New York despatch as representing the total assets of the various agencies of the company.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

Arrangements for the Christmas Fair to be held in the Town Hall on Dec. 20 proceed apace and members are reminded that contributions in kind may be sent to any of the stall holders—whose names will be announced shortly—or to the Secretary of the B.W.A. while donations towards the expenses will be received by Mrs. J. Douglas, 7 Yangtszepoo Road.

GARDENING SECTION

Members are reminded that a meeting will take place this afternoon at Mrs. Ivy's house, 6 Love Lane, at 4 o'clock, when a scheme for the Gardening Section's stall and sub-stalls will be submitted for discussion.

LITERARY SECTION

A meeting of the Literary Section will be held on Tuesday, November 22, at 5:30 p.m. at 9 Kiukiang Road, when Miss Agatha Harrison will speak on "The Human Side of Industry." In view of the great interest that this subject is at the present time arousing locally, a large attendance is anticipated and members are asked to note the hour fixed for opening proceedings. A Committee meeting of this Section is called for 4:30 p.m. on the same day. Members as well as others, are reminded that this Section's stall at the projected Christmas Fair will take a lot of filling and that contributions of books—both new and second hand—as well as of menu and name cards, diaries, Christmas cards, and any sort of stationery will be gladly received by the honorary secretary, care of headquarters.

MUSICAL SECTION

The next meeting of the Musical Section will take place at headquarters on Friday, November 25, at 5:15 p.m. precisely. A paper will be read on "Elgar: his Life and Compositions" by Mrs. O. E. Ryton and the following program will be given:

A room suitable for Badminton has at last been acquired and particulars will be forwarded to members concerned at the earliest possible moment.

ART SECTION

Two meetings of the Sketch club which has started under the auspices of this Section have taken place on successive Thursday afternoons at 5 o'clock and it is to be hoped that more members will avail themselves of this opportunity of working from the life. The Section has been exceedingly fortunate in securing as lecturer so well known an authority on Chinese painting as Dr. Stafford Cox. His introductory lecture will be given at Headquarters on Thursday, December 8, at 5:30 p.m., when the Art Section has pleasure in inviting all B.W.A. members interested to be present.

MAKE READY FOR VOTE

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 16.—With regard to the Burgenland dispute, the Great Powers are taking steps to secure the execution of the Protocol of Venice and to organise the plebiscite in conditions which will assure absolute freedom of opinion.

Specie Banks Fraud Shrouded In Mystery

Officials of the Yokohama Specie Bank here continue to conceal behind a dense veil of mystery the inner workings of the alleged Yen 3,000,000 swindle carried out by a Japanese named Iwabuchi.

The sub-manager of the bank, Mr. Ardimi, stated last night that the trial of those concerned in the robbery of the bank would be held in Tokio.

"I do not know the exact time of the trial," Mr. Ardimi said, "and in fact, all that I know is that the men have been taken to Tokio by the Japanese Government representatives."

Apparently the officials of the bank are under instructions to make no announcement of the exact amount of the loss, which has been estimated from various sources at from Yen 2,000,000 to Yen 5,000,000.

The extreme efforts of those most concerned in the fraud to conceal the exact manner in which the drafts on the letter of credit which was presented by Iwabuchi, were manipulated, in order to reach a balance of about Yen 3,000,000, give promise, bankers here say, of an expose of a well organised ring of swindlers.

The Cotton Trust Bank of Shanghai, Ltd.

The object of this Bank, as was announced at the Promotors' Meeting, was to stabilise and develop the cotton industry by placing before the cotton-yarn merchants financial facilities for conducting their business. The subscribed capital of the Bank is $5,000,000 and a quarter of this sum has already been paid in full.

With the approved regulations governing the Industrial Bank of China as precedent, the regulations of this Bank were drawn up and submitted to the Ministry of Finance for its approval.

A rescript has now been received from the Ministry of Finance ordering certain fundamental alterations in our regulations on the ground that the regulations approved in the case of the Industrial Bank of China were specially sanctioned by the President upon the special application of the Ministry of Finance and as such are not applicable to any other bank.

At an extraordinary meeting of the whole body of the shareholders held on November 9, the following resolution was passed:

WHEREAS the aims and objects of this Company, which has been formed after a careful survey of the existing needs and potential developments of the cotton-yarn industry, have not received the sympathetic consideration of the Ministry of Finance and WHEREAS the said Ministry of Finance has insisted upon various changes in the regulations of this Company, which changes could not be effected without defeating the main objects of the enterprise as were embodied in our original scheme, we as shareholders of the Cotton Trust Bank of Shanghai, Limited, acting in pursuance of Section 3 of Article No. 213 of the Ordinance of Commercial Associations, hereby resolve that this Company be and it is hereby dissolved.

A vigorous protest has been filed by this Company direct with the Ministry of Finance.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 17, 1921.

Spot and forward bar silver were unchanged in London yesterday.

The New York price advanced to 67½ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 400½.

The only changes in the official quotations here today were in the Gold Dollar rate which was raised to 75¼ and the Rupee rate which was raised to 277.

Due to disturbed financial conditions in the North, our market here today was very firm with banks being disinclined to buy for this and next month's delivery, except at very high rates.

Business in Sterling was done at 3/9¾ for cash, 3/9⅝ for November and 3/9⅜ for December.

Gold Dollars were done at 76½ for November, 75½ for December and 74½ for January.

The silver market in London is reported as being steady, but a rise in the London price of silver would not be unexpected in view of conditions in China.

The immediate future of silver and exchange depends almost entirely on political and financial conditions in China.

If these can be adjusted, we may see a reaction in rates.

On the other hand, should they become worse, our local rates will probably go higher.

Freight Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their freight market report of yesterday.

The situation in our Outward fright markets is as follow:

TO UNITED KINGDOM AND CONTINENT

There is still no change to report on this berth and cargo is conspicuous by its absence. The fact is that prices of produce in China are so much higher than prices ruling at home that the export trade has practically come to a standstil.

TO UNITED STATES OVERLAND AND VIA CANALS

The same remarks as above apply also to these berths; except for a little tea going forward via Canals there is practically no cargo moving and even the "cut-throat" rates now ruling via Panama and Suez Canals do not seem able to bring forth exports in any quantities worth speaking about.

The Trans-Pacific Freight Bureau notifies shippers from Tientsin via Shanghai and Kobe that it will issue through Bills of Landing in Tientsin in future at the Shanghai rates less Gold $2.00 per ton, weight or measurement and hope that this concession will induce Tientsin shippers to ship via Shanghai.

COASTWISE

Wants World Peace

MORE and more it is becoming apparent that, at the Washington Conference, America is striving to achieve the thing she fought for in the war and lost at the Paris Peace Conference—that is, world peace.

Seeing no peace in the world after having helped towards the victory for peace and after having been one of the victors, America, in the person of President Harding, called the Disarmament Conference in the hope that the mistakes of Paris could be rectified and another world conflagration prevented.

The position, viewed through American eyes, seemed to be that all the nations wanted peace and that none of them was satisfied with the peace that Paris had produced. The indications were that another world war could not long be avoided. How then to dam up the newly flooding tide of war?

A conference on disarmament held far from the field of the recent conflict seemed to offer some promise of success. The delegates would be away from the scenes of their own political plots and passions, not immediately swayed by their own press and public, in a cool atmosphere in the capital of a nation which nourishes neither hatred nor malice towards any other.

But beyond this there must be something else. What? On reflection it seemed to the American Government necessary that the American people at the zenith of power, and offered an opportunity never in modern times vouchsafed to a single nation to press forward for greater power and for greater privilege and prestige, should consciously and voluntarily draw back from this temptation and make the sacrifice necessary in order to convince a suspicious world of its sincerity. Hence the offer of the American Secretary of State, providing an agreement can be reached, to scrap more naval tonnage than any other power is called upon to scrap.

The alternative to the Hughes offer is another naval race for supremacy. The prompt acceptance of the American offer in principle by the foremost powers involved shows that the world is saner than was thought possible six months ago and the hope for an agreement making for permanent world peace much closer than it was six days ago.

Old World Suspicions

Traveler Returns Impressed With Our Duty To Promote Understanding

(New York Times)

After an eight months' trip, which took him and his family through many countries, Alfred E. Kornfeld, for many years manager and Vice President of Engineering News, comes back to his native United States, inspired to devote the rest of his life in an effort to bring about a better understanding among the peoples and nations of the world.

Mr. Kornfeld, whose passport looks like a crazy quilt, has visited England, France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Egypt and Palestine, and in each country has talked with distinguished men concerning the world problem and real peace.

"Not only would I like to see a better understanding among the nations of the world," Mr. Kornfeld asserted, "but it is most important that the other countries should understand America's internal problems with which she has to grapple.

"At present, the world regards the United States as having a plethora of gold and each nation thinks we should do something more for it than we have already done.

"Not knowing anything about our own unemployment problems, and considering us 'rotten rich,' Germany, France and Czechoslovakia put down our refusal to accept any more promissory notes and to extend credit for raw materials to our general 'hoggishness' and unsympathetic attitude.

"The prevalent bitter opinion in France today is 'France hasn't a friend left in the world.' To one who has viewed her devastation and financial ruin, it is easy to understand and forgive such an attitude. But it is wrong. And France must be made to realise that she has a wonderful friend in the United States—that in a real crisis we would again make the utmost sacrifices for her.

"Germany, of course, still believe that the only reason America entered the war was for profit. Her greatest need, as is that of Holland and Czechoslovakia, is for extended credit on raw materials. With the fluctuating and uncertain value of the mark and the crown, they must be made to realise that unlimited co-operation along this line might mean financial ruin to American business interests.

"Dr. von Baumhaur, the President of the Dutch Chamber of Commerce, believes that Holland should be the clearing house between the United States and Germany, and it really seems a logical solution to Germany's problem.

"Here, let me show you something," continued Mr. Kornfeld as he delved into one of the drawers of his desk and brought forth a small searchlight, similar to those with which every boy is supplied when he goes camping. "This searchlight—battery guaranteed to run forty days, lamp, everything complete—sells in Germany for seven marks apiece, the equivalent of less than seven cents at the present rate of exchange.

"If some American business man could get these from Germany by the millions and put them on the American market, he would make a fortune. With the added 20 percent duty and other expenses included, he could sell it for 25 cents and make an enormous profit. A similar searchlight manufactured in the United States is now selling for more more than a dollar apiece.

"But the question arises, how far can we depend on Germany for steady production and delivery? Could she get the capital to manufacture these and other products by the million? If Holland stands sponsor, in the way suggested by Dr. von Baumhaur, it might make intercommerce with Germany more feasible, provided, of course, that such transactions do not in any way cripple our own manufacturing interests and result in greater American unemployment. It is a question for the economists to answer—and for some diplomat adequately to explain to these foreign countries.

"Before leaving Germany I had quite a talk with Dr. Lasker, who is just as great a student of economics as he is a chess player. He believes that Germany will find her own salvation through work. If work spells wealth, which is the general assumption, then Germany will soon be able to pay her debts, he says. Already there is less unemployment in Germany than there is in the United States. Her railroad builders work from sunrise until 9 o'clock at night.

"The social life in Germany is brilliant," Mr. Kornfeld said in answer to a question, "but it seems artificial. The gayety has a reckless flavor.

"Social life in France, however, has taken on a sombre aspect. With the exception of Paris, which is really no criterion, all of France has, for the time being, forsaken social frivolity for the serious task of reconstruction in every way. The people are working very hard, especially in the southern part of the country, but, with a greater handicap than any other nation, it is uphill work. If we could only make them realise that we are doing our utmost for them, and that they must not blame us for what we cannot do, they would work with less bitterness.

"As for the Italians, they are perfectly marvelous in the energy they are displaying to win back what they have lost in the war. The Italians are the finest people in the world, and when they, too, understand the American situation better, they will come to expect less of us in the light of financial miracles, and truly appreciate that we are doing our level best for them.

"Egypt is the one country that is heartily enthusiastic about America. This feeling, I believe, is due to ex-President Wilson's proclamation that all nations should govern themselves. Egypt is fighting England now. They do not realise that the time is not yet ripe."

As an example of Egypt's cordial feeling toward the United States, Mr. Kornfeld told how he secured the unusual privilege, for a non-Mohammedan, of entering one of the mosques.

PRICES NOT EXHORBITANT

Mr. Kornfeld indignantly protested against the report that American tourists abroad were charged exhorbitant prices for hotel rooms and food.

"When we got to Florence," he said, "we stopped at a hotel which was formerly a ducal palace. I slept in a chamber thirty-six feet square, in a magnificent four-poster bed with a crown at the head. The carpets on the floor were sumptuous and mirrors from floor to ceiling covered several of the walls. My room was delightfully clean and fragrant—and for all of this, with bath, I paid less than $1.50 a day. For two dollars a day one can live like a royal personage in Florence.

"In Germany, one can get a room and bath at the very best hotels for a dollar or a dollar and a half a day. My wife, my daughter and myself used to breakfast heartily on fifty cents for the three of us. We found the food in Germany of the very best—and there is enough of it for everybody.

"In fact, all countries visited, with the exception of Holland and Switzerland, are fast accommodating their prices to after-war conditions. The Swiss and the Dutch, however, are sitting back and waiting for something to turn up, instead of going to work. They do not seem to quite realise that the war is over. As a result, business in these two hitherto prosperous countries is very bad. Their hotels are only half full. Many tourists who had planned a long stay depart after a few days or a week to countries where living expenses have come down—France, Italy, Spain and England.

"The most astounding thing about England to me is that I found more beggars there than in any other country in Europe. To the glory of America, let it be said that we have fewer beggars than any country in the world. And this despite the fact that, while there are 1,500,000 workmen idle in Great Britain, there are more than 3,000,000 unemployed in the United States.

"According to an old Biblical custom, upon my departure from my own country a friend of mine gave me a coin wrapped in a piece of paper, which I have kept with me through my world tour. The prescribed procedure is for me to present it to the first beggar I meet upon setting foot on native soil. I have been home more than three weeks—and do you know I haven't disposed of that coin yet?

"The unemployment question in Britain looms as a stupendous problem. One morning, while waiting outside one of the London theaters for the box office to open, I witnessed more than fifty old men, in answer to an advertisement, no doubt, scrambling for jobs as "sandwich men." Finally, five of the men were selected and the unfortunate forty-five sent away, probably to beg for enough money to provide them with food and lodging for the day.

"And yet with all of England's tremendous home problems, she is continuing a marvellous thing for Palestine. I arrived in Palestine with the intention of staying only one week and remained six.

"England is policing Palestine at a terrific expense, without any financial help from the outside, and she deserves the moral support of every Jew in the world.

"In contrast to the reckless gayety of Germany and the sombre quiet of France, the normal social life of Jerusalem is enchanting to the traveler. One of the most beautiful fancy-dress balls I ever attended in my life was held in Jerusalem at the residence of a Miss Landau, an English lady who had come to spend the rest of her days in Palestine. She lives in the former palace of the Queen of Abyssinia, a most gorgeous place. The costumes were dazzling in the beauty of their gay colorings and the richness of their textures. Sir Herbert Samuels was one of the four hundred present, and his son, dressed as a water carrier, won one of the prizes. The English military band, which is stationed at Jerusalem, added to the festivity of the occasion.

"As I contemplated the everyday peaceful contentment and the natural gayety of this colony, I could not help but pray for the time when the rest of the world would come back to normalcy—when envy and bitter jealousies among the nations would be replaced by understanding and good-will."

New Upper Yangtsze Ship Has Successful Launching

The Mei Ren, a new acquisition to the fleet of the American West China Navigation Company, was launched yesterday afternoon at the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works, Yangtszepoo, in the presence of a large crowd.

The launching ceremony was performed by Mrs. B. C. Hale, the wife of the president of the Company, and the ship took to the water very gracefully amid fire-crackers. After this the visitors repaired to the offices of the New Engineering Company where refreshments were served and toasts exchanged.

Mrs. Haile was presented with a handsome gold wrist watch and bouquet of roses after the christening.

Mr. H. E. Arnhold in toasting the success of the ship and company, said:

"The Mei Ren, whose launching you have just witnessed so gracefully performed by Mrs. Haile, has been specially designed and constructed at these works to the requirements of her owners, the American West China Navigation Co., for service between Ichang and Chungking. I think I am safe in predicting that she will prove a highly satisfactory vessel in every respect and eminently suitable for the trade and passenger traffic between these ports.

"It is 23 years since the founder of this company, Mr. John Blechynden, designed and built the s.s. Lee-chuen for the late Mr. Archibald Little. It was the first vessel propelled by steam to negotiate the rapids of the Yangtsze Gorges. Since that time considerable progress has been achieved in the type of light draft vessel for navigating these rapids until today we have arrived at that state of advancement which you see reflected in the s.s. Mei Ren.

SPECIALLY FITTED

"As you are all doubtless aware, the safe navigation of the swift currents and turbulent waters of the keyway to the rich province of Szechuen is largely dependent upon the type and power of the vessel employed. In the construction of the Mei Ren we have embodied many improvements as a result of collaboration with the owners technical advisers, Messrs. Sherman and Murphy, who have made close observations of the peculiarities of this dangerous waterway and with whom we have been able assisted during the course of construction by Messrs. Reilly and Simmons, the owners superintendents and surveyors.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I will now ask you to join me in drinking success and prosperity to the s.s. Mei Ren and her owners, which toast I will couple with the name of Mr. Haile, the president and general manager of the American-West China Navigation Company."

Mr. Haile, responding, said:

"It is with much pleasure that I thank Mr. Arnhold for the good wishes extended and you for joining with him in same. I believe this an opportune time to make a few remarks regarding the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works, builders of the s.s. Mei Ren.

'BEST SHIP TO DATE'

"The New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works have put a great deal of work and thought on this vessel, have worked hand in hand with our advisors, Messrs. Sherman and Murphy, and our surveyors, Messrs. Reilly and Simmons, with a marked enthusiasm and genuine effort toward turning out the best ship built to date for the Ichang Chungking run.

"It is, of course, yet to be shown whether or not this result is obtained, but from the information and expressions of opinion that I can get from those who know I am confident that the s.s. Mei Ren will be second to none in that service.

"The credit will belong entirely to the New Engineering and Shipbuilding Works, Messrs. Sherman and Murphy, and Messrs. Reilly and Simmons, and I wish to express our appreciation of their services. I again thank you for your interest shown in this launching and for the good wishes extended."

The general particulars of the Mei Ren are as follows: Length overall 200'0," length between perpendiculars 194'0," breadth moulded 32'0" depth to main deck 8'0."

The vessel is built of steel to American Lloyd's requirements, with cut away bow and tunnel stern, the hull being divided into 16 watertight compartments, 4 oil tight compartments and two cofferdams by means of transverse and longitudinal bulkheads. The Mei Ren has three decks, one foremast and a single funnel which gives the vessel a smart appearance. The deckhouses are of light steel plating throughout and accommodation is arranged on the boat deck for first class European passengers, Captain, chief engineer and ship's officers. Eight state rooms are fitted with two single iron beds, also rack, chair and folding lavatory to each. A large saloon is fitted aft amidships which leads out to a spacious deck for the use of the European passengers.

The upper deck is arranged with accommodation for first and second class Chinese passengers. Ten first class staterooms are fitted at the after part of the same deck to accommodate 48 second class Chinese passengers. A large dining saloon is arranged fore and aft in connection with the above accommodation, also on the same deck rooms are fitted for the use of compradores, quartermasters, pilots, stewards and boys.

The main deck is built with closed sides with large cargo doors fitted, also rectangular windows for light to passage way round sides of vessel. Hanging berths are fitted in the main deck space for accommodation of over 200 third class passengers. The petty officers and crew are housed forward in the forecastle.

A complete electric light installation is fitted throughout the vessel. the generating plant consisting of a 10 K. W. "Sissons" enclosed engine and Dynamo set. A powerful, automatic searchlight is fitted, also electric cargo clusters to each hatch.

The main propelling machinery, which has been designed and constructed entirely at the builders' works consists of two sets of triple expansion inverted surface condensing engines capable of developing 2,500 indicated horsepower. The machinery is of extremely light design, balanced for running at high revolutions. The auxiliaries consist of a "Uniflux" main condenser, independent air pump, centrifugal pump with enclosed engine, "Multiflow" exhaust feed heater, gravitation filter, independent main and auxiliary feed pumps and two duplex pumps for general service purposes.

Steam steering gear is fitted working three balanced rudders and hand steering gear is also installed for use in case of emergency.

The main boilers are of the "Yarrow" design, watertube type, with large heating surface for easy steaming, arranged to fire at both ends and under ordinary conditions will work under natural draught. The stokehold is arranged on the closed system and two large forced draught fans, driven by enclosed engines, are installed for use w... boilers are required to steam at maximum capacity.

The deck machinery consists of powerful steam windlass and two large steam warping capstans, one fitted forward and one aft. A heavy derrick is fitted over the forward hatch to facilitate handling heavy cargo.

A Coffee Discovery

According to an Arabian legend, Hadji Omar, a pious Dervish, was outlawed from Mocha in the year 1285. When almost dying of hunger in the wilderness, he roasted some of the small round berries he found growing wild in the thickets. A few of the roasted berries accidentally fell into his drinking water, and thus coffee was discovered.
